Five Women Wearing the Same Dress

Just a Few Performances Left and Selling Fast!

Vancouver, BC, CANADA – Horned Moon and Presentation House Theatre's co-production of Five Women Wearing the Same Dress is in its final week – closing this Saturday, February 28th, 2004. With six sold out performances so far, this production is easily on its way to being Presentation House Theatre's most successful show to date!

"[The cast] are rock-solid, crystal-clear and diamond-sharp. ...if you want intelligent material delivered flawlessly by living, breathing characters, this is easily the show of the week. Presentation House was packed out, queues for leftovers, on a miserable rainy Tuesday (TUESDAY!) night."

-- Alan Hindle, Terminal City Weekly

"Entirely recommendable...this is a fun evening in the theatre and the sold-out opening night house left smiling."

-- Martin Millerchip, North Shore News

"Five Women is a good date play for gals to take their guys to see."

-- Jo Ledingham, Vancouver Courier

Written by Academy Award-winner Alan Ball (American Beauty, Six Feet Under), Five Women Wearing the Same Dress follows five bridesmaids at a wedding reception, united only by their dislike of the bride. During the course of the play, the women's true identities are revealed as we learn about their pasts, their dreams and their hurts. Directed by Michael Scholar Jr (I Love You, You're Perfect, Now Change for the Arts Club Theatre Company and Presentation House Theatre) the show features Rebecca Coleman, Robin Ruel, Sarah Sawatsky, Bronwen Smith, Mitzi Thaddeus and Daniel Thomas. Poignant, funny and insightful, these Southern women will make audiences roar with laughter.

Five Women Wearing the Same Dress by Alan Ball runs Tuesday through Saturday nights, with 2 pm Saturday matinees. Tickets are $15 for adults and $11 for students and seniors. Presentation House Theatre is located at the corner of Third and Chesterfield in North Vancouver, just four blocks up from the Seabus. Tickets and information are available by calling 604-990-3474.
